

(Mobile library) International Trade Disputes and EU Liability (Cambridge Studies in European Law and Policy)

International Trade Disputes and EU Liability (Cambridge Studies in European Law and Policy)

Anne Thies

*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

#4570576 in eBooks 2013-03-31 2013-03-28 File Name: B00B9DFC5A | File size: 49.Mb

Anne Thies : International Trade Disputes and EU Liability (Cambridge Studies in European Law and Policy)
before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised International Trade Disputes and EU Liability (Cambridge Studies in European Law and Policy):

The European Union has become the respondent of several international trade disputes. This book examines the right to compensation for damage resulting from retaliatory measures imposed under the system of the World Trade Organization in disputes triggered by the EU. Anne Thies evaluates the implications of the EU's membership in the WTO for its domestic system of rights and judicial protection. Emphasising the necessity to maintain EU standards of protection independently of the external dimension of EU action, the book offers suggestions on how the current gap of protection could be filled while upholding the scope of manoeuvre of the EU institutions on the international plane. Moreover, it places the issue in its broader context of the relationship between international and EU law on the one hand, and the discretion of the EU as a global actor and standards of individual rights protection under EU law on the other.

"The book is an impressive analysis from a young academic to produce original research in the field of international trade law and the EU legal institutional approach. It is indeed a brave attempt to understand a rather difficult and complex topic. The book opens a door for further research and detailed policy recommendations and is a worthwhile read for those who are interested in reading about legal aspects of the famous "Bananas" and "Hormones" cases." Christine Otsver, Journal of Contemporary European Research

About the Author Anne Thies has been a lecturer in European and international law at the University of Reading since 2007. Her research focuses on the interrelationship between international, EU external relations and constitutional law.