Though his ideas on leadership are covered by other writers too, his emphasis on designing culture helps to highlight his original take in coaching the sport. Though the book is written as an encomium, it does not completely gloss over his flaws.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Well

Done!!By CC Coach Mike"The Score Takes Care of Itself" is a journey inside the mind of Bill Walsh, the SuperBowl winning coach of the San Francisco 49'rs. The book is on leadership. Mr. Walsh does an excellent job of translating for us the steps he took to help build one of the great franchises in the NFL. He is gracious in spreading the praise and is very self critical. The advice easily transcends the football field and can be applied to many endeavors. The advice and wisdom he offers can be applied to the Boardroom, the classroom and the athletic fields. Well written and a worthy read. HIGHLY RECOMMENDED!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Leadership wisdomBy cjwakeWinning in football, like business, is a team sport. No individual can tackle everything or everyone. This book does a fantastic job capturing the value in developing a high performance team environment. With that, the score truly will take care of itself.

The last lecture on leadership by the NFL's greatest coach: Bill Walsh Bill Walsh is a towering figure in the history of the NFL. His advanced leadership transformed the San Francisco 49ers from the worst franchise in sports to a legendary dynasty. In the process, he changed the way football is played. Prior to his death, Walsh granted a series of exclusive interviews to bestselling author Steve Jamison. These became his ultimate lecture on leadership. Additional insights and perspective are provided by Hall of Fame quarterback Joe Montana and others. Bill Walsh taught that the requirements of successful leadership are the same whether you run an NFL franchise, a fortune 500 company, or a hardware store with 12 employees. These final words of 'wisdom by Walsh' will inspire, inform, and enlighten leaders in all professions.
